Today's session:

1. WHAT IS DIGITAL COMMONS?
2. HOW IS IT RELEVANT?
3. HOW IS IT DONE?

In their words:

"Scholarly Works (Digital Commons) enhances our scholarly reputation and research credibility by allowing people from outside our organization and within it to find posters, papers, presentations, reports, articles, book chapters, and other items written by colleagues and affiliated staff. Now there is a single access point so items are visible and can be found easily"

Linda Matula Schwartz, Director of Library Services, LVHN

relevance to ACGME, MAGNET, etc.:

ACGME and LCME:

- – Developed much more streamlined process for ACGME and LCME accreditation reporting (LVHN)
- – Thoughtful, relevant organization of the content
- – Precise metadata for each record

Magnet:

Providing adequate resources to support learning and also share what they are learning:

- – "With our Magnet program posters in Digital Commons – dissemination of these is huge, since part of becoming a magnet institution is sharing what the students are learning."
- – Institutional control

In their words:

"eScholarship@UMMS has been a game changer for us in the Department of Psychiatry and at the Systems and Psychosocial Advances Research Center,"

"It is a fantastic platform for knowledge translation and dissemination of our research, and massively expands our reach and capacity to share findings from our research with all sorts of stakeholders – researchers, people with lived mental health experience, family members, providers, laypeople – all over the world."

 - Kathleen Biebel, PhD, Associate Professor of Psychiatry, UMass Medical School

ACTIVE CALCULUS: USAGE STATISTICS

August 10, 2016 – by Matt Boelkins – in Publicity – Leave a comment

One of the superb librarians at GVSU who manages the site that hosts AC sent me access to a dashboard that reveals a lot of interesting user data.

For example, after GVSU, the 10 locations/institutions that have downloaded AC most are:

> Westmont College
> Foothill-DeAnza Community College District
> University of Redlands
> Keene State College
> St Ignatius High School
> Middlebury College
> University of British Columbia
> Adelphi University
> Nevada System of Higher Education
> Washington & Lee University
